During the Foreclosure Conference, HUD will introduce faith and community leaders to new programs and services designed to help prevent foreclosure. National banks will be presenting to help you understand their banks role in the foreclosure process and how they can help your constituents facing foreclosure. You will also learn: how to recognize and prevent scams; how to become a HUD Approved Housing Counseling Agency; and how to get help if foreclosure occurs. Field offices throughout the country will be hosting “viewing parties” for their local faith and community leaders. Join us for first-hand information on what to do when faced with foreclosure.
