Who Must File a Personal Property Tax Return

A District of Columbia personal property tax return (Form FP-31) must be filed by every individual, corporation, partnership, executor, administrator, guardian, receiver, trustee or any entity that owns or holds in trust any tangible personal property if:

- The property is located or has a taxable situs in the District of Columbia; and
- The property is used or is available for use in the District of Columbia in a trade or business whether or not operated for profit, including property kept in storage or held for rent or lease or similar arrangement to third parties, government agencies or non profit entities.

NOTE: You are in a trade or business if you are engaged in, carrying on or concluding the affairs of a trade, business, profession, vocation, rental of property, or any other activity whether or not operated for profit or a livelihood. Construction companies doing business in the District of Columbia at any time from July 2, 2001 to July 1, 2002 must apportion the remaining cost (current value) of tangible personal property as of July 1, 2002, in accordance with the number of days during the period that their tangible personal property was physically located in the District of Columbia.

Exemptions

1. Nonprofit Organizations—The tangible personal property of an IRC §501(c)(3) organization that has received a certificate of exemption from the Government of the District of Columbia Office of Tax and Revenue is exempt from the personal property tax. Note: Any personal property used for activities that generate unrelated business income subject to tax under section 511 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, is not exempt. If you are an IRC §501(c)(3) organization and would like to obtain a District of Columbia exemption application (Form FR-164), please call (202) 442-6546 or visit our website at www.cfo.dc.gov
2. Gross Receipts Tax, Distribution Tax, Toll Telecommunication Service Tax and Commercial Mobile Service Tax—The Tax Clarity Act of 2000 (DC Act 13-501) provides an exemption from the personal property tax for tangible personal property of any entity subject to the gross receipts tax, distribution tax, toll telecommunication service tax or commercial mobile service tax.
3. Qualified High Technology Companies—The New E-Economy Transformation Act of 2000 (D.C. Act 13-543) provides an exemption from the personal property tax for ten years from the date of purchase for any tangible personal property purchased after December 31, 2000 by a company certified as a Qualified High Technology Company. See specific instructions for a description of eligible property. Qualified personal property based to a QHTC is also exempt from the personal property tax for a period not to exceed 10 years.

A Qualified High Technology Company (QHTC) is any individual or entity with two or more employees headquartered or operating in the District of Columbia and deriving at least 51% of its gross revenue from one or more qualified technological activities. The qualified technological activities are as follows:

- A. Providing internet-related services and sales;
- B. Providing information and communication technologies involving advanced computer software and hardware, data processing, visualization technologies or human interface technologies;
- C. Providing advanced materials and processing technologies relating to the chemical, biochemical, or medical field;

- E. Providing electronic and photonic devices and components, such as microprocessors, logic chips, memory chips, lasers, lenses and optical fibers.

A QHTC claiming an exemption from the personal property tax must attach the form QHTC-CERT to the Form FP-31. For more information on QHTCs, see FR-399, Qualified High Technology Companies. This publication includes information on claims for refunds for personal property tax years 2001 and 2002 and the schedules to use for exempt property.

The total amount of tax due must be paid in full and mailed with the return (please use the enclosed envelope). Make the check or money order payable to the D.C. Treasurer, and write "2003 Personal Property Tax" and your FEIN (or SSN) in the lower left corner of your payment.

- Interest at the rate of .0355921 percent per day, will be assessed on any tax which remains unpaid after the due date of the return without regard to any extension of time to file. Interest on a late payment is computed from the due date of the return to the date when the tax is paid.
- A valuation misstatement penalty may be applied if there is an understatement of tax liability greater than $5,000 (greater than $10,000 for corporations) that is attributable to a valuation misstatement.
- The misstatement is substantial if the amount determined to be the correct valuation is 200% or more than the amount reported on your return. The penalty is equal to 20% of the underpayment.
- The misstatement is gross if the amount determined to be the correct valuation is 400% or more than the amount reported on your return. The penalty is equal to 40% of the underpayment.

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

Photocopies

Please file the original return, do not send a photocopy.

Value of Tangible Personal Property — You must report the remaining cost (current value) of all tangible personal property as of July 1, 2002.

Depreciation — The straight-line method of depreciation is the only method allowed in calculating the remaining cost (current value). Accelerated depreciation methods and property lives, including the Accelerated Cost Recovery System, may not be used to compute the remaining cost (current value).

Tangible personal property (excluding qualified technological equipment) reported on the return must not be depreciated in excess of 75 percent of its original cost. Consequently, the remaining cost (current value) of all tangible personal property (excluding qualified technological equipment) must be at least 25 percent of the original cost.

Qualified technological equipment must be depreciated at the rate of 30 percent per year and must not be depreciated in excess of 90 percent of its original cost. Consequently, the remaining cost (current value) of qualified technological equipment must be at least 10 percent of the original cost.

For personal property tax years beginning July 1, 2000, and thereafter, the remaining cost (current value) of qualified technological equipment acquired on or before June 30, 2000, may be calculated as if depreciation at the rate of 30 percent per year was used from the acquisition date. However, there will be no credit granted nor refund of tax paid in earlier tax years under the prior depreciation rate for qualified technological equipment.

Depreciation rates for any tangible personal property not listed in the Depreciation Guidelines in this booklet may be obtained by calling (202) 727-4TAX (4829).

Use Schedule A of the Personal Property Tax Return to report all depreciable property that you own and which is subject to the personal property tax.

Form FP-129A

Extension of Time to File D.C. Personal Property Tax Return or Report

EXTENSION OF TIME TO FILE — A 3-month extension of time to file will be granted if you properly complete and timely file Form FP-129A together with full payment of the tax due. If you are granted an extension of time to file you must attach a copy of your Form FP-129A when you actually file your personal property tax return or report.

A taxpayer must use Form FP-129A to request a 3-month extension of time to file Forms FP-31, FP-32, FP-33 and FP-34. A separate Form FP-129A must be submitted for each return or report for which an extension of time to file is requested. No extension of time to file will be granted beyond the 3-month extension.

WHEN TO FILE — The request for an extension of time to file must be submitted on or before the due date of the return or report.

WHERE TO FILE — The completed Form FP-129A together with the payment of any tax due should be mailed to the Government of the District of Columbia, Office of Tax and Revenue, P.O. Box 7862, Washington, D.C. 20044-7862. Be sure to sign and date the form. Make the check or money order payable to the D.C. Treasurer.

INTEREST AND PENALTY — If any tax due is not paid on or before the due date of the return or report, without regard to any extension of time to file, interest at the rate of .0355921 percent per day will be assessed on any tax which remains unpaid after the due date of the return. Interest on a late payment is computed from the due date of the return to the day the payment of tax is made.

A penalty of 5 percent per month, or portion of a month (limited to a 25 percent maximum), will be assessed on the unpaid taxes.

SIGNATURE — The request for an extension must be signed by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's authorized agent.
