6. Program Accessibility (Not Applicable to Façade Projects)

In the course of making a program accessible, recipients do not have to take any action that the recipient can demonstrate would change the nature of the program or activity or if the action would cast an unnecessary financial or administrative burden, however, the recipient must take other means that would not result in such problems.

The recipient must provide the necessary means so that clients with disabilities are able to benefit from their program. Providing these auxiliary aides to the disabled must be done in a collective manner and not on a personal level where devices are individually prescribed.

Recipient must ensure to the maximum extent possible that people with disabilities will have access to the benefits and services of the program or activity receiving DHCD funding. The instance should be undertaken on a case-by-case basis as the specific needs of those with disabilities could differ which would require different means to accommodate the individual under the existing program.

7. Program Compliance

For program accessibility, the funding applicant must make sure that it will attain the methods to accommodate the needs of participants with disabilities by providing reasonable accommodations, as applicable, in the delivery of the program services or to the physical site where services are being provided.

As a recipient of DHCD funds, the applicant commits to following the applicable compliance guidelines. (Please check)

- Will accommodate a person with a disability, showing up for the goods and services being delivered, to ensure their participation in the activities provided to the general public, whether it is through auxiliary aides or an interpreter.
- Will accommodate participants with mobility impairments, as applicable, by removing displays or other objects in the path of travel; installing paper cup dispensers at a water fountain if available; providing alternatives services if barrier removal is not readily achievable.
- Will move the program service to an alternate location that is accessible to the disabled and look to nonstructural changes before moving to costly renovations.

It is not always necessary to alter your facility in order to comply with program accessibility compliance; however, it may be possible that renovations may be required if programmatic and nonstructural changes are not possible.

- Will accommodate the visually impaired through the use large letter signs; removing displays or other objects in the path of travel; allow an individual with a visual impairment to bring a guide dog into public accommodation and will not attempt to make the person discard their assistant animals when receiving services from the facility; use talking calculators or computers; raise low-hanging signs or lights; increase frequency of existing oral announcements; make optical magnifiers available; install entrance indicators such as strips of textured material near doorways, elevators, etc.; tape texts/menus.
- Will accommodate the hearing impaired by ensuring all means of communication are covered in order to provide an equal chance of accessibility. Will provide, as applicable, written notices of oral announcements; encourage employees without speech impairments to speak clearly and at an audible level (without shouting) and pace (not rapid-fire) and instruct employees to repeat themselves, when necessary, in a professional manner; provide small amplifiers for telephones; purchase TDD (telecommunication devices for the deaf); improve sight lines by replacing oval tables with roundtables; improve acoustics by lowering volume of background music, but raising volume for announcements.
