Instructions for Completing Amended Registration

These instructions are to be used with an Amended Registration (RAD Form 2). This form applies all rental units and housing accommodations.

When to Use This Form. All housing providers must register their housing accommodations or rental units with the Rental Accommodations Division. An amended registration is used to report changes in owner's contact information, property manager information, registered agent information, licensure, or occupancy to the Registration or Claim for Exemption Form (RAD Form 1) except for changes in rent charged, ownership, or a loss of exemption from the Rent Stabilization Program. Changes must be reported by filing an Amended Registration within thirty (30) days of the event. The Amended Registration must be served on all tenants and filed with the Rental Accommodations Division. Use of this RAD Form 2 is required effective January 31, 2023.

If you require assistance, contact the Rental Accommodations Division on (202) 442-9505.

Complete all applicable portions of this form and include copies of: (1) your valid basic business license; and (2) a valid certificate of occupancy (applicable for buildings consisting of two (2) or more rental units). Basic business licenses and certificates of occupancy are issued by the Department of Licensing and Consumer Protection ((202) 671-4500). The Rental Accommodations Division will review your amended registration. If approved, you will receive a date stamped copy. Service instructions for tenants and filing with the Rental Accommodations Division are below.

Fill in the date of filing for the Certificate of Rent Adjustment (RAD Form 9) and the effective date of the change(s).

Tenant-Specific Subsidy Exemption—New Exemptions and Ending Exemptions.

(a) New Exemption. Check the box if any rent unit is under a tenant-specific subsidy exemption (e.g., housing choice voucher). Fill in the unit number(s), the prior rent charged amount (the rent charged at the time the unit became exempt), the subsidy program type, and the effective date (the tenant's move-in date) of the subsidy program contract for the rental unit.

(b) Ending Exemption. If the tenant-specific subsidy is ending, fill in the unit number, the last rent charged amount (the date rent charged on the date the unit became exempt), the new rent charged (the new calculated rent charged), and the effective date that the subsidy contract ended (the tenant's moveout date). Check the box if the rental unit is currently vacant.

1. Calculating the New Rent Charged for an Occupied Rental Unit. If the tenant-specific subsidy ended and the rental unit continues to be occupied by the same tenant, the new rent charged may be no more than the rent charged on the date the unit became exempt plus the annual adjustment of general applicability under section 42-3502.06(b) of the Rental Housing Act of 1985 for each year that the rental unit was under the subsidy contract. You may obtain the historical annual rent adjustments of general applicability at <https://rhc.dc.gov/page/annual-rent-adjustments-2012-%E2%80%93-present>.

You must attach a worksheet to RAD Form 2 showing your computations for an occupied rental unit.

If you are increasing the rent charged for an occupied rental unit, you must serve the tenant with Notice of Rent Adjustment (RAD Form 8) and attach a copy when filing this Amended Registration (RAD Form 2) with the Rental Accommodations Division. RAD Form 8 must show the computation of the new rent charged.

2. Calculating the New Rent Charged for a Vacant Rental Unit. If the tenant-specific subsidy ended, the tenant vacated and the rental unit is vacant, the new rent charged may be no more than:
 - a. 110% of: (1) the rent charged on the date the unit became exempt, plus (2) the annual adjustment of general applicability under section 42-3502.06(b) of the Rental Housing Act of 1985 for each year that the rental unit was under the subsidy contract. You may obtain the historical annual rent adjustments of general applicability at <https://rhc.dc.gov/page/annual-rent-adjustments-2012-%E2%80%93-present>, or
 - b. The amount of rent charged for a substantially identical rental unit in the same housing accommodation provided that the new rent charged shall not exceed 130% of: (1) the rent charged on the date the unit became exempt, plus (2) the annual adjustment of general applicability under section 42-3502.06(b) of the Rental Housing Act of 1985 for each year that the rental unit was under the subsidy contract. You may obtain the historical annual rent adjustments of general applicability at <https://rhc.dc.gov/page/annual-rent-adjustments-2012-%E2%80%93-present>; or
 - c. If the rent charged on the date the rental unit became exempt was not properly filed with the Rental Accommodations Division or is no longer available and the housing provider cannot provide a date stamped copy of the original filing showing the rent charged on the date the unit became exempt, then the new rent charged may be no more than the lowest of:
 - i. The most recent rent charged on file with the Rental Accommodations Division the date the unit became exempt plus the annual adjustment of general applicability under section 42-3502.06(b) of the Rental Housing Act of 1985 for each year that the rental unit was under the subsidy; or
 - ii. The applicable Small Area Fair Market Rent for the Washington-Arlington-Alexandria Metropolitan area based on unit size and zip code, as established by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development under title 24, section 888.113 of the Code of Federal Regulations; or
 - iii. The average rent charged during the last six (6) consecutive months of the exemption.

You must attach a worksheet to RAD Form 2 identifying your computation method and showing your computations of the new rent charged for a vacant rental unit.

Use RAD Forms 3, 4, and 5 to notify an incoming tenant that the rent charged is based on the rent adjustment filed in the Amended Registration (RAD Form 2).

Part 4: Certification by Housing Provider. The agent or housing provider must sign the Registration or Claim of Exemption Form certifying the completeness and accuracy of the information represented. Print the name of the person signing the form, their title, and the date the form was signed.
